

Contura 750 at the Point

Customer Aspirations: A number of fires for a new Development at the Point in Polzeath

Customer Requirements: Low out put, slim and elegant wood burner

The Contura 750 is an elegant tall and very slim fireplace which suits the style of building, the twin wall flue was left stainless steel at the request of Jeremy and Eva and reflects the light within the room.

Jeremy and Eva Davies, owners of The Point at Polzeath tell us why they chose Kernow Fires to install their woodburners and why they choose the stoves they did.

'Simon (owner at Kernow Fires) has fitted fires in our home so we already knew their workmanship would fit with the high spec finish we wanted to achieve. We worked with Simon and the team to get a woodburner that complemented our interior design, worked with the energy efficient build and was visible from all areas of the open plan apartments. One of the suggestions Simon made was the Contura 750 and we liked it straight away. It is very tall, slim and elegant. Eva was very clear where she wanted the fires to be, they make a wonderful welcome as you walk up the stairs. You can see the flames, thanks to the large side windows, from both the kitchen and lounge area and the tall slim style fits perfectly with our design concept.'
